One man's treasure

William Steacy

Since when ~~can~~ shadows cast a light, since when can't words describe,
the wonderful one I call my treasure?

and taming's emotions out of control,
takes nothing more than I can't give away.
From the beginning, I've been counting out the winnings,
hurt so far away

One man's treasure is all that he needs, to shine on him for life
It can't die,
It can't be taken away

takes nothing more than I can't give away
From the beginning I've been counting out the winnings,
with hurt so far away
